The 1990 TeX meeting in Europe is the fifth such conference organised since 1985. It also breaks new ground as the first to be a TeX Users Group (TUG) meeting outside North America. The TeX computer typesetting program is now widely established as the de facto standard in scientific, educational and commercial use for the setting of documents requiring very high standards of typographic control, particularly technical documents, and for applications where high quality, portability and device independence are of importance.

If you are interested in attending the conference, please contact the Conference Office in Cork at the address given below for a brochure and booking form (North American users can contact the TUG office at PO Box 9506, Providence RI 02940).

Some of the presentations:

- SGML & TeX in Scientific Publishing
- Towards LaTeX 3.0
- Improving the Aesthetics of Mixed Font Documents
- The Document Designer as a Separate Entity
- An International Phonetic Alphabet
- ArchiTEx as an International Page Pattern Maker
- TeX & Hypertext: The Future of Electronic Publishing?
- Experiments with TeX and Hyperactivity
- A Graphical Driver to Interface Statistical Software and PCTeX
- QuickDraw, PostScript, TeX
- An approach to Drawing Circuit Diagrams for Text Books
- metaprinting Graphics
- Practical Halftoning
- Getting TeXnical: Insights into TeX Macro Writing Techniques
- An Integrated, Documented, Public Domain TeX system for VAX/VMS
- Documenting a TeX Archive or Helping the TeXie

Conference location:

The conference will take place in University College, Cork from Monday 10th September to Thursday 13th September 1990. A wide variety of accommodation is available in hotels, guest houses and student hostels and can be booked direct with the tourist office (Bórd Fáilte) or with the conference office.
The City of Cork is located half-way along the south coast of Ireland at the head of Cork Harbour. Access is easy, with regular flights from Dublin, London and continental Europe, and direct ferry services to Swansea in the UK and Roscoff and Le Havre in France.

Nearby is Blarney Castle with the famous Stone of Eloquence; Fota House and Estate with its Wildlife Park; and a wide range of sporting facilities, including fishing, riding, sailing, surfing, swimming and golf. The city has a good variety of entertainment: cinemas, theatres, its own Ballet Company and Symphony Orchestra, and Irish Traditional Music in many venues.

Addresses:
Conference Office:
\TeX90 Office
Computer Centre
University College
Cork, Ireland
\textit{Telephone:} +353 21 276871 \times 2609
\textit{Fax:} +353 21 277194
\textit{Email:} tex90@vaxi.ucc.ie

Programme Coordinators:
\begin{itemize}
  \item Peter Flynn (Local Coordinator, Programme Co-Chairman) University College Cork (cbs8001@vaxi.ucc.ie)
  \item Dean Guenther (Programme Co-Chairman) Washington State University (guenther@wsuvml.bitnet)
\end{itemize}

Organising Committee:
\begin{itemize}
  \item Ray Goucher, \TeX Users Group (reg@seed.ams.com)
  \item Dean Guenther, Washington State University
  \item Peter Flynn, University College Cork
  \item Cees v. d. Laan, Rijksuniversiteit Groningen (cgl@rug.nl)
\end{itemize}

National User Groups:
\begin{itemize}
  \item \textit{DANTe, Germany} Joachim Lammarsch Heidelberg University (rz92@dhdurz1)
  \item \textit{Nordic \TeX UG} Roswitha Graham KTH Stockholm (roswitha@duvan.nada.kth.se)
  \item \textit{NTG, Holland} Johannes Braams DNL Leidschendam (jl.braams@pttrnl.nl)
  \item \textit{GUTenberg, France} Bernard Gaulle CIRCE Orsay (ucir001@frors31)
  \item \textit{UK\TeX} Malcolm Clark Imperial College London (fpa@vaxa.cc.imperial.ac.uk)
\end{itemize}